2016
Karl Barth Conference
June 19-22
Princeton, NJ

Karl Barth's
Pneumatology
and the Global Pentecostal Movement

Join John Flett at Princeton Theological Seminary in New Jersey, USA, for the 2016 Karl Barth Conference

As part of Pilgrim Theological College's wider commitment to post-graduate theological education, an opportunity has arisen for one student to accompany Rev Dr John Flett as he delivers a keynote address at the 2016 Karl Barth conference in Princeton, New Jersey (one hour south of New York). If you are currently enrolled as a Pilgrim Theological College postgraduate student you are eligible to apply.

Visit <http://barth.ptsem.edu> for conference details.

To apply

To apply to attend the conference you must write an Expression of Interest (EOI) consisting of a 500-word statement on why you should attend the conference on Barth and Pentecostalism, and submit it to John Flett. Applications will be assessed by the College's Academic Committee.

Inclusions

- Return economy flights from Melbourne to New York
- Accommodation at Princeton from 19-22 June, 2016
- Conference fees (NB all of these inclusions are for one student only)

Requirements

- You must be a currently enrolled Pilgrim Theological College postgraduate student to submit an EOI
- You must have or be able to obtain a valid passport for entry into the US
- You must submit a conference reflection upon return

Deadline

Your EOI must be received by John Flett by 5pm March 31, 2016. The successful applicant will be advised around one week later.
